Senate committee to review Sen. Bishop's bill to protect children from inappropriate messages

Who: Sen. Mike Bishop, R-Rochester, and the Senate Technology and Energy Committee

What: The committee will discuss Bishop's Senate Bill 1025, which would create a Do-Not-Contact registry for children and educational centers.

When: Wednesday, May 5, 3 p.m.

Where: Farnum Building, Room 210
125 W. Allegan St., Lansing

Briefing: Bishop's legislation, which has attracted national attention, would create a do-not-contact registry to protect children from some e-mail and text messages. It would allow parents to put their child's e-mail on an off-limits registry to keep minors from receiving advertisements from pornographic, gambling or other Web sites offering things illegal to minors.
